

LAIDBACK LUXURY

Newly revitalized Hotel Amaranó is a polished modern sanctuary imbued with Hollywood glamour fresh off a complete renovation of all public areas and guestrooms, plus a new bar and restaurant. An elegant fictional muse, Amara, is the gracious host at this rejuvenated retro retreat, offering complimentary car service and beach cruisers to her guests. Plush headboards displaying the full script of Casablanca and vintage photos adorn the 132 guestrooms, which include 31 spacious suites. The crown jewel Chairman's Suite features the largest private hotel terrace in Burbank, and the 1,900-square-foot space is ideal for entertaining, boasting a dining table for eight, chaise lounges, and a daybed with views of the Hollywood Hills.

MANI À LA MODE

The groovy new '70s-inspired Day Trippin' spring collection by Orly evokes a sunny vintage vacation in Palm Springs or a Southwestern road trip in a 1970s Airstream trailer. Richly pigmented saffron, terracotta, and turquoise crèmes signal brighter days ahead. A favorite of celebrity nail artists, Orly's patented Gripper Cap and brush make flawless application easy for long-wearing, chip-resistant manicures. The spring collection colors are also available in GelFX formula for salons, and Orly's vegan, 12-free, and cruelty-free polishes are made at its Los Angeles headquarters. You can even create a custom nail color at the West Hollywood flagship boutique and color lab. 7621 Beverly Boulevard, orlybeauty.com

SKIN SAVIOR

Tucked discreetly in the trendy ROW DTLA mixed-use complex, the Things We Do is Los Angeles' best kept skincare secret. The pretty, feminine beauty concept bar specializes in facials and holistic health. One of the most popular services is a microneedling treatment that infuses hyaluronic acid and snail mucin into deep layers of the skin, boosting collagen production and smoothing skin texture. Founder Vanessa Lee has formulated her own skincare line as well, with products like the glycolic glow scrub and fast-absorbing black currant face oil to combat "maskne." Other beauty brands include plant-powered Botnia and scientifically driven Senté. 787 South Alameda Street #100, rowdtla.com/collective/the-things-we-do

ITALIAN TWIST

The creators of Mauro's Cafe on Melrose and Fabiolus Cucina on Sunset are opening another Hollywood outpost, this time serving their cult-favorite Italian dishes in a new category: vegan. The plant-based Brothers Meatballs from Mauro and Sergio Corbia and chef Mark Mittleman opened inside the former Bowery in February with a 100% plant-based menu teeming with scratch-made meatless meatballs, homemade garlic bread, salads, crispy eggplant lasagna, and dessert. It's comfort fare, yes, but the varieties are anything but basic. There's the luxurious bianco truffle, made with (dairy-free) smoked mozzarella, parmesan, truffle alfredo, and basil, plus a vibrant verde version topped with arugula, green tomato sauce, calabrese peppers, mozzarella, and parmesan. 6268 Sunset Boulevard, brothersmeatballs.com

OUTDOOR OMAKASE

Sushi | Bar adapted its eight-seat omakase chef's counter experience for a comfortable al fresco omakase. Chefs prepare your meal at an outdoor sushi counter while you dine beside heat lamps at the Encino Place shopping plaza. The 17-course omakase is as delicious as ever, served in groups of two or three pieces rather than bite by bite, with familiar signature nigiri like hamachi topped with a dollop of sweet corn pudding and Santa Barbara sea urchin with pickled wasabi. The parade of sushi concludes on a high note with luscious charred unagi cooked with bone marrow. 16101 Ventura Boulevard, Suite 242, Encino, scratchrestaurants.com
