

FANCY FLIGHT

In 2017, Private Suite (PS) opened in LAX, offering discerning fliers a hyper-exclusive traveling experience that includes a fully private TSA and customs checkpoint, personal chauffeur in a BMW across the airfield, and private escort onto the aircraft. Earlier this year, the luxury club introduced a new social element with the Salon: a connected community space serving chef-prepared fare and handcrafted cocktails in sleek, elegant digs. The Salon was intended to marry the social aspect of airport lounges with the perks of PS, including expedited TSA screening and direct-to-aircraft transportation. The Salon is available to members and non-members for $695 per use per person. LAX, reserveps.com

SUITE DISPOSITION

Viceroy L'Ermitage Beverly Hills was the first all-suite hotel in the United States when it opened in 1975, providing the comfort and discretion of a private apartment with the amenities of a five-star hotel. The hotel's newest package invites guests to relax, rejuvenate, and reinvent themselves with a private 90-minute training session at Studeo, the world-class private fitness gym, which includes fitness assessment, body composition testing, and a post-workout recovery with Therabody RecoveryAir, along with an in-suite sports massage and haircut by a renowned celebrity hair stylist. Throw open the doors of the private French door balconies to enjoy a gentle breeze with your daily in-suite breakfast. 9291 Burton Way, Beverly Hills, viceroyhotelsandresorts.com/beverly-hills

GIRL & THE GOAT GOES WEST

After more than a decade, Girl & the Goat is still one of the most coveted reservations in Chicago, and Top Chef champion Stephanie Izard just opened a second location of her flagship restaurant in the L.A. Arts District this summer. Some of her signature dishes like goat liver mousse, chickpea fritters, and green beans sautéed in fish sauce vinaigrette appear across both menus, but there are unique to L.A. dishes like lamb sirloin skewers with pickled rhubarb relish and oyster sauce stracciatella ice cream with espresso caramel. The décor is light, bright, and airy, with a jungle's worth of plants – a decidedly summery California contrast to Chicago's darker, moodier ambiance. 555 Mateo Street, girlandthegoat.com

SPANISH SOULMATE

The understated exterior at Soulmate belies the colorful, Spanish Mediterranean oasis within. It's the hottest hangout in West Hollywood for the au courant, with an open-air layout and retractable roof above a light-filled courtyard filled with flourishing plants, playful local artwork, and colorful cocktails. The menu by executive chef Rudy Lopez is universally appealing, from Santa Barbara uni toast, jamón Ibérico, and spicy paella bites to beautifully constructed and incredibly flavorful vegan options like crispy eggplant with quinoa and vibrant vegetable fideua. Order another drink with Basque cake for dessert and stay a while. 631 N Robertson Boulevard, West Hollywood, soulmateweho.com

NAILS ALL NATURAL

Powder Beauty just opened at ROW DTLA, offering a natural, non-toxic alternative to traditional nail salons. Specializing in organic polish, dip powder manicures, and easy soak-off full-cover soft gel extensions that don't damage nails, the nail technicians at Powder Beauty help clients maintain glamorous and healthy nails. Herbs like lavender, sage, and cedarwood are infused into hot towels and creams for an immersive aromatherapy experience, and every manicure concludes with a sweet almond cuticle oil and hand massage. Seasonal specialties include a therapeutic bourbon and black pepper pedicure for overworked feet and an anti-aging cracked egg and collagen pedicure to boost the skin's elasticity. 777 S Alameda Street, M1 Suite 146, powderbeautyco.com
