

SEA TO SPA

The Mandarin Oriental brings the ocean to the desert with three new spa treatments using OSEA, a plant-based vegan skincare line. In its ocean body bliss treatment, select from a choice of marine mud, algae, and oshadi clay wraps to detoxify the body, while receiving a calming head massage. For the perfect beach figure, try the NUBody silhouette treatment, which tones and tightens skin with microcurrent technology. The new brightening anti-aging facial, meanwhile, uses pure vitamin C blended with hyaluronic sea serum (both rich in antioxidants) to bring a youthful glow to any complexion. 3752 South Las Vegas Boulevard, mandarinoriental.com

AN ICON REOPENS

Twenty-five years ago, when Wolfgang Puck opened his flagship restaurant, Spago, at the Caesar's Palace Forum Shops, he pioneered a new era of celebrity chefs and fine dining on the Strip. The iconic restaurant closed late last year, but has reopened in the Bellagio (replacing Todd English's Olives), complete with beautiful views of the legendary fountains from its open-air patio. The reinvented Spago will feature new dishes like pizzas topped with salmon and caviar, but offer the same market-driven philosophy (order a la carte or trust the chef with the multi-course California tasting menu). 3600 South Las Vegas Boulevard, wolfgangpuck.com/dining/spago-lv

SCOTCH + STEAK

Living up to its name, Scotch 80 Prime, in the Palms Casino Resort, has a collection of rare Scotch whiskies worth $3 million, including a Macallan Fine & Rare 1937 single malt. It is also one of only a handful of fine dining establishments across the country serving certified Japanese Kobe beef (locally joining Jean Georges Steakhouse at Aria Resort and Casino and Bazaar Meat by José Andrés at SLS Las Vegas). After working for years under Charlie Palmer, Chef Barry S. Dakake knows his beef. For vegetarians, there are flaming mesquite seafood towers and liquid nitrogen dessert trolleys, too. 4321 West Flamingo Road, palms.com

SUMMER SOIRÉE

Local restaurant fave Andiron Steak & Sea is throwing an annual Hamptons-inspired White Party on June 24 to kick off the summer with stellar food and dancing. Deejay Priscilla plays Top 40 beats until midnight, accompanied by summery craft cocktails, passed signature hors d'oeuvres, and a build-your-own ceviche and poke. All-white attire is strongly recommended and tickets are $79. andironsteak.com

FATHER'S DAY FLIGHT

All In Aviation is one of the most luxurious flight schools in the country, with a fleet that features only the newest Cirrus aircraft. Beginning in May, half-day lesson flights to remote regional destinations, with certified instructors, will be available in the SR22 single-engine four- or five-seat composite aircraft (seen here), along with the new SR20. So, bring up to three guests and visit Sedona, Mesquite, Zion, or the Grand Canyon and take in views of the Hoover Dam, Lake Mead, and Red Rocks along the way. Stop for late lunch afterwards (the Mesa Grill at Sedona Airport is especially scenic) before returning to Henderson Executive Airport. allinaviation.com
